The Liturgy of the Word

Reading I

Malachi 3: 19-20

A reading from the book of Malachi

The sun of righteousness will shine on you.

Lo, the day is coming, blazing like an oven, when all the proud and all evildoers will be stubble, and the day that is coming will set them on fire, leaving them neither root nor branch, says the Lord of hosts. But for you who fear my name, there will arise the sun of justice with its healing rays.

This is the Word of the Lord.

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 98: 5-6, 7-8, 9

R: The Lord comes to rule the earth with justice.

Sing praise to the Lord with the harp, with the harp and melodious song. With trumpets and the sound of the horn, sing joyfully before the King, the Lord.

R: The Lord comes to rule the earth with justice.

Let the sea and what fills it resound, the world and those who dwell in it; let the rivers clap their hands, the mountains shout with them for joy.

R: The Lord comes to rule the earth with justice.

Before the Lord, for he comes, for he comes to rule the earth, He will rule the world with justice and the peoples with equity.

R: The Lord comes to rule the earth with justice.

Reading II

II Thessalonians 3: 7-12

A reading from the second letter of Paul to the Thessalonians

If anyone refuses to work, then do not let him eat.

You know how you ought to imitate us. We did not live lives of disorder when we were among you, nor depend on anyone for food. Rather, we worked day and night, laboring to the point of exhaustion so as not to impose on any of you. Not that we had no claim on you, but that we might present ourselves as an example for you to imitate. Indeed, when we were with you we used to lay down the rule that anyone who would not work should not eat.

We hear that some of you are unruly, not keeping busy but acting like busybodies. We enjoy all such, and we urge them strongly in the Lord Jesus Christ to earn the food they eat by working quietly.

This is the Word of the Lord.

Gospel Alleluia

I am the way, the truth, and the life, says the Lord;
No one comes to the Father, except through me. [8]

Gospel

Luke 21: 5-19

A reading of the holy gospel according to Luke

Your endurance will win you your life.

Some were speaking of how the temple was adorned with precious stones and votive offerings. Jesus said, "These things you are contemplating – the day will come when not one stone will be left on another, but it will all be torn down." They asked him, "When will this occur, Teacher? And what will be the sign it is going to happen?" He said, "Take care not to be misled. Many will come in my name, saying 'I am he' and 'The time is at hand.' Do not follow them. Neither must you be perturbed when you hear of wars and insurrections. These things are bound to happen first, but the end does not follow immediately."

He said to them further, "Nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom. There will be great earthquakes, plagues and famines in various places – and in the sky fearful omens and great signs. But before any of this, they will manhandle and persecute you, summoning you to synagogues and prisons, bringing you to trial before kings and governors, all because of my name. You will be brought to give witness on account of it. I bid you resolve not to a wisdom which none of your adversaries can take exception to or contradict. You will be delivered up even by your parents, brothers, relatives, and friends and some of you will be put to death. All will hate you because of me, yet not a hair of your head will be harmed. By patient endurance you will save your lives."

This is the gospel of the Lord.

Included in our bulletin today is the fourth installment of the Church Doctrine Commission's publication, "To Live in the Spirit of God." Last week, the general introduction to this document was included in the bulletin. This week's excerpt concerns the Church's position regarding the issue of abortion. Please take some time to review this important clarification of our Church's belief regarding this matter.

This morning after Holy Mass, join us in the parish hall for the YMS of R Breakfast. The parish committee will meet after breakfast for their monthly meeting.

This coming Saturday, November 20, Holy Cross and Our Lady of Peace churches are co-sponsoring a spaghetti dinner from 4:00 – 6:30 pm to benefit the food pantry at Our Lady of Peace. Like last year, the “cost” of the dinner is a donation to the food pantry of food or personal items that can be distributed throughout the holiday season to those who are in need in the Lakeland/Solvay community. Please invite your friends and family to join us for this worthy cause. We are looking forward to our joint collaboration with our neighbor church and this opportunity to build a closer bond to fellow Christians in our community. Thank you in advance for your support.
